Unit (1) Egypt's Heritage

Write an essay of about 150 words on the following topic:

A Strange Day in in My Life

One of the strangest days in my life happened last summer. I woke up late because my alarm clock did not ring, and when I hurried outside to catch the bus, I realized I was wearing mismatched shoes: one black shoe and another brown shoe. Everyone on the bus kept staring at me, but I was too sleepy to notice at first. When I finally reached school, I discovered that all the classes had been canceled because of a sudden power cut. My friends and I decided to spend the day together, but the strange events did not stop. It started raining heavily although the weather forecast had promised a sunny day. We ran to find shelter, laughing and completely wet. Although everything went wrong that day, I will never forget it. It taught me that life can be full of surprises and sometimes strange days turn into happy memories.
